Identity card

The possession of the International Student Identity Card (ISIC) brings along various benefits, especially for journeys abroad.

Insurances

Liability insurance

The Studentenwerk Giessen has concluded liability insurance for students enrolled at the Justus-Liebig-Universität Giessen, at the Technische Hochschule Mittelhessen and at the Hochschule Fulda. The insurance shall cover liability claims arising from participation in the studies.

Compulsory accident insurance

In the context of events in connection with the education at university, students generally are provided with accident insurance cover. Insurance cover is provided with courses, excursions and internships, and on the way to and from university.

Private accident insurance

Beyond the compulsory accident insurance, the Studentenwerk Giessen has concluded a private accident insurance for students. The insurance covers accidents during leisure time. The private accident insurance provides benefits in case of death and invalidity, and bears healing and recovery costs.

The insurance coverage must be checked in each individual case.

The contact point for students

*Come to us!
We offer advice and support for all questions concerning your studies.*

- Competent advice
- Support and help
- Tips and information

Social advice

Our social advice is open for all students and persons interested in studying. We offer support for and information about the life as a student. The advisors offer one-on-one conversations. They are part of a network. That is why they are able to convey to other competent contact persons in advisory boards, offices and self-help groups, if necessary.

Our staff supports students with a need for unique advice, for example first-year students, international students, handicapped or chronically ill students

There are various possibilities to fund one's studies. These include parental financial support, BAföG, studentships, student jobs, student loans, and final degree loans, as well as special financial benefits for students. In the course of our advice for financial aid, you will get detailed information about those alternatives and you will come to know which one fits your concrete situation best.

Familienservicestelle

Students with children need bundled offers of support to meet the double and triple burden of raising children and mastering the requirements of the university and the demands of the job. Parents-to-be and students with children shall obtain advice, extensive information, important tips and helpful advice for various areas, e.g. childcare, financial aid or accommodation.

Please note!

Our advice is free of charge and confidential. The advice on the various topics presented in this leaflet serves as "help for self-help" and must not serve guiding interests of third parties. It is no legal advice; i. e. the information given is not legally binding.

Welcome pack for students at JLU

Newborns of students and first-semester students, who start their studies at JLU with a child, are welcomed with a welcome pack. You can collect your welcome pack from the Familienservicestelle.

Childminder network (Kindertagespflegenetz)

A network of approved childminders is available for student parents at JLU and THM. Children between the age of 8 weeks and 6 years will be taken care of individually. The Studentenwerk provides an allowance to help cover childminding costs.

KIWIS and PINGUINE day-care centres

In each day-care centre 20 children of students between the age of 10 months and 3 years are taken care of in two groups from Monday to Thursday from 07.30 to 18.15 and Friday from 07.30 to 14.30 at the campus of Cultural and Social Sciences (Phil I) respectively at the campus of THM in Giessen.

Babysitter allowance (Babysitterzuschuss) emergency fund for students at JLU

Students at JLU, who, in addition to regular childcare, need a babysitter because they have to attend a lecture, are taking examinations, or the like can apply for an allowance to help cover childcare costs. You can also apply for this allowance if your child is not able to attend the childcare facility in case of acute illness.

JUSTUSkids

During Easter, summer and autumn holidays, a full-day holiday childcare for children between the ages of 6 and 12 years is available to students and employees of the two universities in Giessen.

"Studying with children" community (Netzwerk "Studieren mit Kind")

The community offers monthly, free of charge events in which collegiate parents can compare notes with each other and obtain information about the topic "studying with children". Childcare will be provided. With the help of the community's email mailing list students with children will receive additional information and information worth knowing.

Child-sized meals (Kinderteller)

Students' children can eat free of charge at all Studentenwerk canteens and cafeterias that serve a warm midday meal. "Child-sized meals passes" are issued at the department Beratung & Service.

Family apartments

The "Unterhof" student residence, block 10, in Giessen, has 24 low-rent family apartments for student parents and double apartments for single parents.
